Comparison Table:

Criteria	LLM #1	LLM #2
Structure	Simple sections but flat hierarchy; experience not well organized	Clear hierarchy with structured sections and bullet points
Clarity	Easy to read but generic and less impactful wording	More precise, action-oriented, and professional phrasing
Formatting	Plain, minimal styling; lacks visual separation	Clean layout with lines, spacing, and consistent bullets
Overall Quality	Good draft but basic and less polished	More refined, professional, and formal

Reflection:

1. Gemini performed better overall because it produced a more polished and structured resume. Its use of clear hierarchy, bullet points, and stronger action verbs made the content more professional and ready for submission, compared to ChatGPT's more basic draft-style output.
2. The main differences observed were in structure, language, formatting, and level of detail. In terms of structure, Gemini organized sections more clearly, while ChatGPT followed a more straightforward and linear format. For language, Gemini used more formal and impactful wording, whereas ChatGPT's tone was more general and descriptive. In formatting, Gemini demonstrated better spacing and visual hierarchy, while ChatGPT's output was more plain. In addition, Gemini expanded and elaborated on descriptions more effectively, while ChatGPT remained concise but less refined.
3. For the final resume, the strengths of both outputs were combined by integrating Gemini's strong structure and formatting with ChatGPT's clarity and simplicity. The wording was improved by incorporating stronger action verbs and more concise phrasing to enhance professionalism. The layout was also upgraded by adding subtle color accents and visual elements, making it more creative and aligned with an architecture-focused design while still maintaining a clean and professional appearance. Overall, the content was organized into well-defined sections with consistent bullet points to improve readability and visual balance.
